

The nature of the second absorption

Bhikkhu Anālayo

Abstract

The nature of absorption experience is a much discussed issue in modern day meditation circles. Based on the historical-critical approach of comparison between Pali and Chinese Agama discourses the paper will address this issue with the example of the second absorption as reflected in the early Buddhist discourses.